DETAILED ACTION

Response to Remarks

1. The Office Action has been made issued in response to amendment filed April 14, 2009. Claims 1-10 are pending. Applicant's arguments have been carefully and respectfully considered in light of the instant amendment, and are not persuasive. Accordingly, this action has been made FINAL.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC section § 101

"tied to" In re Bilski

Applicant has not amended the claims so that they are "tied to" to a particular apparatus. Furthermore, the claim as drafted does not recite a physical object being processed and displayed. Therefore the rejection is not being withdrawn.

Use claim

The amended to claim 1 has not overcome the 101 rejection as it related "use claims" because the claim recites a process without setting forth any steps involved in the process, therefore the claims does not provide a new and useful process. Therefore the rejection is not withdrawn.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC section § 112

Claim 1 recites a process without setting forth any steps involved in the process and is therefore indefinite because it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced. Therefore the rejection is not being withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as not falling within one of the four statutory categories of invention. While the claims recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, a statutory "process" under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to another statutory category (such as a particular apparatus), or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing (Reference the May 15, 2008 memorandum issued by Deputy Commissioner for Patent Examining Policy, John J. Love, titled "Clarification of 'Processes' under 35 U.S.C. 101"). The instant claims neither transform underlying subject matter nor positively tie to another statutory category that accomplishes the claimed method steps, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process. The claim is not "tied to" a particular apparatus. Also note that the claims recite a "deformable object" which is not physical object.

Claim 1 recites is a process without setting forth any steps involved in the process, and is considered a use claim. Therefore the claim does not provide a new and useful process (see MPEP 2173.05(q)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites a process without setting forth any steps involved in the process and is therefore indefinite because it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced (see MPEP 2173.05(q)).

Claim 1 recite the use of: divergent radiation from a focal point and passing through the object, the focal point being mobile about the object; an analytical model of mobility and deformation of the object defined for each position of the focal point; and an analytical calculation process for obtaining said values from totals of the values of the property along projection lines leading to the focal point and passing respectively by the points; characterized in that the model is improved, and is a variable combination being acquired, this combination comprising translations, rotations and homotheties of the object from an origin, however, it is unclear as to exactly how the process is being carried out, which renders the claim as indefinite.
